*In honour of Heritage Day, the Nova Scotia Museum and the Museum of Natural History are excited to share a selection of acrylics and watercolours paintings showing scenes of pre-expulsion Acadian life at Belleisle, N.S. Azor Vienneau, Nova Scotia Museum artist from 1963 to 1991, painted them using archaeological evidence discovered at the 1983-1984 excavations. Azor's work reflects the diverse knowledge, skills and talents that exist behind the scenes at museums.

Heritage Day Programs:

Presented in partnership with the Landscape of GRAND PRE' a UNESCO site World Heritage Site and Grand-Pre', National Heritage Site, we commemorate the 2022 Heritage Honoree.

- Visitors can learn how the Acadians turned Salt Marshes into fertile meadows using Dykes and Aboiteaux. The wooden model of an aboiteau shows how this sluice system is used for controlling water levels in tidelands.
- Join our Evangeline POP Art Challenge. Become a contemporary artist with your very own POP ART creation reinventing the iconic Acadian heroine, Evangeline. Your beautiful POP ART masterpiece might even be featured on social media and be part of the Museum's digital art gallery.

Ross Farm Museum

Admission charged

Open Feb 19, 20 & 21st

9:00 am – 5:00 pm.
